THE subjoined Circular despatch from the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, with reference to the decision to raise the age limits for candidates for Naval Cadetships, is, by direction of His Excellency the Governor, published for the information of those whom it may concern.

CIRCULAR.

SIR,

DOWNING STREET,
22nd September, 1913.

30th November, 1905.
29th May, 1906.
7th March, 1908.
August, 1913.

With reference to the Circular despatches noted in the margin, I have the honour to inform you that the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have decided to raise the age limits for candidates for Naval Cadetships from  $12\frac{3}{4}$ –13 years, to  $13\frac{1}{2}$ – $13\frac{3}{4}$  years. I enclose copies of the Regulations embodying the new arrangements, which will come into force at the examination to be held in December next for the January, 1914, entry.

2. Their Lordships have also had under consideration the possibility of making arrangements for the inclusion of Colonial candidates in the scheme which they have recently introduced for the Special Entry of Naval Cadets. I enclose copies of a Memorandum giving particulars of this scheme, with copies of the Regulations governing the entry of candidates.

3. It has been decided that no satisfactory arrangements for the local examination of candidates for Special Entry Cadetships are possible: but, while local facilities to compete cannot be given, the names of candidates will be gladly received by the Admiralty if they can appear for examination in England.

4. The Regulations enclosed are those drawn up for the year 1913, but those for 1914–16 will be on the same general lines, except that candidates during those years must be between the ages of  $17\frac{1}{2}$  and  $18\frac{1}{2}$  on the 1st of June of the year in which the examination is held.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

The Officer Administering
the Government of Trinidad.

Your most obedient, humble Servant,
L. HARCOURT.
