MOST IMPORTANT.GOVERNMENT NOTICE.

On account of existing military demands upon air transportation facilities the United States Government has found it necessary to impose limitations on the transportation of air mail from the United States to countries outside the American Continent, the West Indies, and other islands in the Caribbean area.

Regulations are accordingly published below dealing with letters so stamped or marked that they would ordinarily be transmitted via the United States to destinations outside the American Continent, the West Indies, and other islands in the Caribbean area—transmission from the United States onwards being by air. The effect of the regulations will be that if the letter exceeds two ounces in weight or is not in the usual and ordinary form of a letter or in any other case where the efficient prosecution of the war so demands the Postmaster-General will be authorised to despatch the letter in a mail bag for transmission from the United States onwards by surface mail.

It should be noticed that the regulations do not affect the transmission of mail to a destination in the United States or the transmission of a letter otherwise than via the United States or the transmission of a letter via the United States for carriage onwards by surface mail.

TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO.

J. F. NICOLL,
Governor's Deputy.

Defence Regulations made by the Governor under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, 1939, and of the Emergency
Powers (Colonial Defence) Order-in-Council, 1939.

(b) addressed to a destination outside the American Continent, the West Indies, and the other islands of the Caribbean area, and

(c) are so mailed or stamped that they would in the ordinary course of events be transmitted to their destination via the United States of America—the transmission from the United States of America onwards being by air.

3. It shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General to despatch any letter to which these regulations apply in a mail bag for transmission from the United States onwards by surface mail if—

(a) it exceeds two ounces in weight, or

(b) it is not in the usual and ordinary form of a letter, or

(c) the despatch of the letter in the manner aforesaid is in the opinion of the Postmaster-General necessary or expedient for the efficient prosecution of the war.

Made by the Governor's Deputy this 15th day of December, 1942.

By Command,

(No. 665.)

J. O'CONNOR,
